PROFICIENCY EXAMS AND CERTIFICATES “WORKSHOPS AVAILABLE FOR ALL INDUSTRIES”

pro·fi·cien·cy prə'fiSHənsē/ a high degree of competence or skill; expertise.

Google Technologies development training requires a high degree of competence, “proficiency” or skills to perform and mastery to retain when acquired. CIB and the Montana Contractor Trades Network (MCTN), is going to train, educate and innovate opportunities. All attendants must take a Proficiency Exam (PE), to test the caliber of our training, education and innovation. This exam will cover Google, Inc.’s beginning from Stanford University (Garage) Internet Start-Up to Breakout IPO, $50 Billion 2013 earnings. Plus 12.5 of the multiple choice questions will come from the Video Presentation... Exams will be taken immediately after Google Chairman Dr. Eric Schmidt’s video presentation.

The Proficiency Exam will be 25 multiple questions to answer. Montana participants will receive a Certificate of Participation from the MCTN and CIB regardless of their score. No one fails, we just get better with repetition. Quick learners who score high will be interviewed on video and potential information will be passed along to Montana Contractor Trades Network Employers and Sponsors who are interested in hiring proficient people with Google Technologies training, education and innovation.

Everyone should have dignity. Integrity is what they produce. CIB and the MCTN is committed to bringing Montana citizens and businesses a reservoir of knowledge, wisdom, expertise, and relationships. If used correctly Montana will assist the US by spring boarding fast job growth and a stronger economic disposition.
